

Invest in Saint Ignatius Loyola Academy

Invest in an exceptional educational program that redefines the future for boys in Baltimore.

Saint Ignatius Loyola Academy is a tuition-free, independent Jesuit middle school for boys. Our graduates are accepted into the finest college preparatory high schools in the mid-Atlantic region.

Our educational program gets results: while less than 54% of males graduate from high school in Baltimore, 98% of Academy graduates receive their high school diploma, and more than 85% have matriculated in colleges and universities.

Because we are tuition-free, the Academy relies on the generosity of individuals, organizations, corporations and foundations to support our program. Every donation counts to help put our boys on the path to success through a great education.
